

REMARKS

Claim 7 has been amended in two minor respects. First, when the Office amended claim 7, the word "said" was misspelled as "aid" in two instances. The above amendment corrects this typographical error in both instances.

Claim 7 has also been amended to conform claim 7 to the wording of claim 1(amended) and as originally filed in specifying in clause (c.) of claim 7 that the gaseous combustion products are exhausted at a "first predetermined range of elevated temperature and pressure". As amended, claim 7 now provides in clause (c.) express antecedent basis for the term "first predetermined range" in clause (f.) of claim 7.

All of the above amendments are clerical in nature, do not affect the scope of claim 7, do not introduce new matter and should take only a few moments of the Examiner's time to review and approve them.

Respectfully submitted,
